

Call for Self-Nominations to Participate on ACHDNC Workgroups

The Advisory Committee for Heritable Disorders in Newborns and Children (ACHDNC) is accepting nominations for the following three workgroups:

1. Education and Training
2. Follow-up and Treatment
3. Laboratory Standards and Procedures

Self-nominees are requested to provide the following information:

- Submit a résumé
- Statement of interest. Be sure to include the following:
 - One (1) Workgroup of Interest
 - Brief description of your expertise and experience that will contribute to the Workgroup

Due Date & Final Decision

Nominations must be emailed to Alaina Harris (email: aharris@hrsa.gov) by 11:59PM on November 4, 2016. Name the workgroup that you selected in the subject of the email. All final decisions regarding membership will be made by the Chair of the ACHDNC and the Designated Federal Officer of the Committee. Final decisions will be made by December 2016.

Expectations

Each member will be selected for a 4 year term (January 1, 2017 to December 31, 2020). Each member will also be responsible for attending ACHDNC meetings in person, including travel and lodging costs. If the ACHDNC assigns projects to a workgroup, members will also be expected to participate on monthly workgroup teleconferences and provide input. Any member can voluntarily remove themselves from a workgroup at any time with a resignation letter to the Chair of the workgroup.

For more information on the Committee:

<http://www.hrsa.gov/advisorycommittees/mchbadvisory/heritabledisorders/>