

Prior Approval Requests (Program Office)

A quick reference sheet for the PO, PQC and PAO roles in the HRSA Electronic Handbook (EHB)

Overview

This quick reference sheet covers reviewing prior approval request submissions by program office staff.

Grantees submit prior approval requests whenever they wish to take actions that require prior approval from HRSA. Examples of prior approval requests could include a budget revision, work plan revision, or a request to carryover unobligated funds from the previous budget year. The grantee submits their prior approval request in EHB which routes it to the Project Officer (PO) and Grants Management Specialist (GMS) for the grant. Depending on the nature of the prior approval request, the PO may review the request and make a recommendation to the Grants office. The Grants office makes the official decision as the legal authority on the grant.

Accessing Prior Approval Requests for Review

Reviewing prior approval requests is a task in your handbook. Submissions in your queue appear on your Pending Tasks page. Look for the Review task under Assigned Tasks This Role > Post Award Phase > Prior Approval Review. The numbers to the right show how many tasks (i.e., reviews) are not started or in progress.

1. Click the task name to open the Prior Approval Review List page. (If there is only one review in your queue, the review opens directly from the Pending Tasks page.)
2. From the Prior Approval Review List page, choose a submission and click the Begin (or Contribute) button.

Reviewing

The review process is designed to be flexible, allowing you to perform the review in whatever manner is most appropriate.

- You can attach review documents, create issues or request contributions to the review from other HRSA staff.
- You can record a recommendation, or send the review to the user who will make the recommendation.
- You can contribute to a review even when the review is not in your queue.

Review or Contribute?

You can choose to be the reviewer or a contributor. The review belongs to the reviewer, who is the only one who can record a recommendation or send the submission for further approval.

You can also choose to let the Grants Office handle the review, if this is appropriate.

Attach Documents

If appropriate, you can write up your findings in a separate document and attach it to the review. Click the Attach button to upload your document.

Issues/Questions

You can create issues or questions related to the submission. You or another reviewer or contributor can update an issue at any time.

- Anyone can update an issue. No one can delete an issue.
- No final action can be taken on a submission so long as there are open issues.

To create an issue, click the Add button and enter your question or issue. Mark the issue as either “Open” or “Waiting on Someone Else.”

To update an issue, click the Edit button for the issue. Make additions or changes, as appropriate. You can also change the status of the issue, if appropriate. You can mark it as “Resolved” or “Not an Issue.”

Request Contribution

Use Request Contribution to solicit input from other HRSA staff. Contributors may create or update issues or enter comments.

Users from whom you request contributions will receive an e-mail with a link to the review. They may follow the link to make their contribution.

- Requesting a contribution does not create a task for the recipient, nor does it add the review to their queue. No action is required of contributors.
- Contributors may make their contribution even after the review has left your queue.
- Non-receipt of a contribution does not stop the review process.

To request a contribution, click the Request Contribution button, prepare your request, and then send it.

Comments

Contributors may enter comments in the Contribution Comments area. Enter your comments, and then click the Add Contribution button. Comments are captured in the action history for the review.

Recommendations

The reviewer may record a recommendation or send the submission for further approval, as appropriate.

Recommend Approval/Disapproval to Grants Office

Send the submission to the Grants Office with a recommendation to approve or disapprove. Grants will make the decision.

Send for Further Approval

Send the submission to another user for further review. Typically, you will use this when you are not the user who can make a recommendation on a prior approval request. The other user may be in Programs or Grants.

- If the other user is in Programs, the submission will be removed from your queue.
- If the other user is in Grants, you may choose to remove the submission from your queue or keep it there. Keeping it in your queue allows you to continue to contribute to the review.

Request Change

Send the submission back to the grantee with comments and a change request. None of the internal review is made available to the grantee.

No Decision

Place the submission on hold until you are ready to make a decision or send it to someone else.
