What is Conflict of Interest?

• Conflict of Interest Defined (45 CFR § 75.112)
  - A significant financial interest that could directly compromise or bias professional judgment and objectivity related to the management of federal financial assistance.

  - Broadly defined, a potential conflict of interest includes external connections that may or may not appear to improperly bias an award recipient’s judgment in performing his or her job responsibilities related to their federal award.
Why Focus on Conflict of Interest?

• Good business practice
• Helps preserve integrity
• Improves your organization’s internal controls
• HRSA award recipients are REQUIRED to have a written conflict of interest policy
Testing for a Conflict of Interest

• Reasonable person test
  • If a reasonable, disinterested person would conclude that an individual might emphasize personal interests over other interests for which he/she has responsibility, there is, at the very least, the appearance of a conflict of interest.
Why Potential Conflict of Interest?

- Because a lot depends on the circumstances.
  - For example, if steps are taken to remove an employee with a potential conflict of interest from being involved in a project, that may be a solution.
Examples

- Accepting personal gratuities.
- Using or disclosing confidential information.
- Maintaining roles that conflict.
- One person overseeing all aspects of subcontracting or subawards.
- Competing financial interests.
- Conflicting employment outside the organization.
HHS requires that HRSA establish conflict of interest policies for federal awards that:

1. Address conditions under which outside activities, relationships, or financial interests are proper or improper;

2. Provide for advance notification of outside activities, relationships, or financial interests, and a process of review as appropriate; and

3. Outline how financial conflicts of interest may be addressed.
Elements of HRSA’s Federal Financial Assistance Conflict of Interest Policy

- Purpose
- Applicability and Relationship to other Policies
- Definitions
- Situations Requiring Disclosure
- Disclosure Requirements by Recipient Type
- Timing of Disclosures
- Content of Disclosures
- HRSA Actions
HRSA’s Federal Financial Assistance Conflict of Interest Policy main points

• Uniform Guidance Requirement (45 CFR §75.112)
• Subgrants / Subcontracts
• Disclosure Requirements to HRSA
Conflict of Interest - Exceptions

• Program statutes and regulations

• Does not apply to scientific conflicts of interest for research projects

• However this still applies when a pass-through entity gives a subaward for scientific collaboration
What to do in Cases of a Conflict of Interest?

• Follow your organization’s conflict of interest policy.

• Do you think you have a conflict?

• Report it!

• Disclosure requirements.

• Failure to make required disclosures may result in additional conditions and could result in suspension or debarment.
What will HRSA do?

• Term and Condition in Notice of Awards (NoA)
• Review
• Respond
Take Away

• Conflicts of interest are more frequent than we think. Be alert to the risk.

• A perceived conflict is as potentially damaging as a real conflict.

• Err on the side of caution. It’s better to over-disclose than under-disclose.

• (11) Restriction on Distribution of Sterile Needles (Section 529)

Division E, Title VII:

• (12) Confidentiality Agreements (Section 743)

• On June 20, 2018, the OMB Memo raised:
  • The threshold for micro-purchases under federal financial assistance awards from $3,500 to $10,000 and
  • The threshold for simplified acquisitions from $150,000 to $250,000. See definitions at 45 CFR § 75.2.

• Institutions of Higher Education may request a higher micro-purchase threshold (above $10,000) if you receive approval from your cognizant federal agency for indirect costs, with certain conditions.
What should you do?

1. Review the OMB Memo for awareness
3. Document your implementation of the increased thresholds in your systems of internal control by updating your policies and procedures
4. Contact your Grants Management Specialist (with a CC to your Project Officer) with any other questions about the threshold increases
5. But organizations are not required to increase their acquisition threshold policies as a result of the OMB memo.
